Proceedings of Congress.

WASHINGTON, Saturday, March 17, 1866.

The Senate was not in session to-day.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

In accordance with the understanding amongst the members previous to the adjournment last night, the session of to-day was devoted to general debate, to the exclusion of business.

After the reading of the journal—

Mr. Hill, of Indiana, took the floor, and read a lengthy speech on the subject of restoration, discussing the present status of the States lately in rebellion, and taking strong ground against their admission at this time to any share in the management in the Government.

He was followed by Mr. Dumont, of Indiana, who also delivered a written speech on the same subject.

(Correspondence of the Baltimore Sun.)

THE CONSERVATIVE REPUBLICAN MOVEMENT—ITS STRENGTH—PROBABLE CABINET CHANGES ADVISED—THE CIVIL RIGHTS BILL TO BE SIGNED—MR. McCULLOCH SUSTAINED, &c.

WASHINGTON, March, 17.

The conservative republican movement inaugurated here by members of Congress will soon exhibit great political strength, power and resources. They possess every element of political strength, and cannot fail to succeed in the campaign for which they are preparing. They have with them the Executive power; they have with them the whole South, and will necessarily have more than half of the entire North. It is believed that they will confer freely with the President, and, perhaps, under their advice he may make some cabinet changes at an early day.

The President will, it is believed, approve of the civil rights bill, in its present form. The conservative republicans will not oppose it. It does not lead to negro suffrage; but it protects the right of the negro race to their newly acknowledged freedom. The President, by signing this bill, will probably disarm a portion of the republican hostility; indeed, it is thought that some of the republicans are only waiting for a good excuse to reunite with the President.

The President's letter to Judge Sharkey, advising certain concessions to the demand for a discriminating negro suffrage, is spoken of as a possible basis for a compromise between Congress and the excluded Southern States. But it is little matter about that—the country will see to the recognition of the rights of these States, with a view to its whole prosperity, in time.

It is almost unnecessary to state that Secretary McCulloch's figures, as well as his policy, have been fully vindicated. His statement of the debt, &c., on the 1st of March was prepared by Mr. West, the chief clerk of the department. Mr. Clarke's letter impugning that statement was referred by the Secretary to Mr. West, who has fully verified it. A sub-committee of the ways and means of the House also examined the subject and reported that the Secretary was correct in his statement.

IOTA.

NEGRO TROOPS TO BE MUSTERED OUT.

A dispatch from Washington says:

The Secretary of War has ordered the muster out of forty thousand negro troops now in the Southern States, and the order will be issued immediately. In some localities they will be replaced by white soldiers.

A dispatch to the New York World says:

Within the next few days, about 5,000 colored troops will be mustered out of the service in South Carolina. General Bennett advises them to direct their attention to the cultivation of the soil.

It is believed that the government intends to order the muster out within the next two weeks of 40,000 colored troops now stationed in the South, to be taken from such parts of the several military departments as can best spare them.

CONDITION OF THE TREASURY.

WASHINGTON, March 18.—The Secretary of the Treasury, in response to a resolution of the House of Representatives, requiring him to prepare a statement showing the amount of money now in the Treasury, yesterday transmitted a communication from the Treasurer of the United States, from which it is seen that the available balance in the Treasury, according to returns received to the 10th inst., was $123,423,886.91, of which $57,799,921.37 consisted of coin, and $65,623,964.50 of currency. Of the total $21,780,358.55 were on deposit in the National Banks designated as depositories.

POLITICAL GYMNASTICS.

Washington, March 16.—Senator Stewart this afternoon performed in the Senate a sort of political summersault, at least his feat was so regarded by Mr. Sumner, who formally rose from his seat and welcomed the Senatorial acrobat with open arms as a new convert to the necessity of negro suffrage. This proffered embrace was provoked by the mongrel resolutions introduced by the Senator from Nevada, in which he proposes to settle accounts with the people lately in rebellion, by giving general amnesty in the place of universal suffrage and equality in civil rights regardless of color or race. Mr. Stewart explained that he drew light and authority for a part of his mixed proposition, from the President, whose letter to Governor Sharkey, of Mississippi, of August 15, 1865, he read as an expose of Mr. Johnson's private opinions and desires upon negro suffrage. The letter is the same that I telegraphed you in substance a few days ago, as part of the basis of Mr. Wilson's joint resolution for representation and the resumption of the practical relations of States lately in rebellion. When Mr. Stewart concluded his explanation, the radical side of the Senate resolved itself into a sort of mutual admiration society, and each of the brethren in turn got up to thank and welcome the young convert, who directly passed over to that side of the Senate, and received the pats on the back and blessings from Messrs. Sumner, Wilson, and others. Mr. Stewart seemed about as much astonished at what he had done as any body in the Senate. He evidently has made a louder report than he had contemplated, for he was exceedingly non-committal in his explanation, and emphatically refused to give his endorsement separately to any of the several features of his resolution.

E. F. Coe's Super-Phosphate of Lime,
OR
BONE MANURE.
WARRANTED GENUINE.
BEING MADE OF THE BEST MATERIAL AND in the most approved manner, it is recommended to the public as superior to any other in the market. All who have used it speak of it in the highest terms of praise, and those engaged in its manufacture will continue their best endeavors to advance the high reputation which it has acquired.
We guarantee the Phosphate to be well manufactured, and recommend it in preference to any other artificial manure in the market. We consider it nearly equal to the best Peruvian Guano, although furnished at half the price.
Messrs. B. H. Allen & Co., the well known manufacturers of agricultural implements, say of it:
"We take pleasure in stating that we have sold E. F. Coe's Super Phosphate of Lime for four years.—It has given universal satisfaction to our customers. We most cheerfully endorse it as an article worthy of the confidence of the public, and the purchaser may rely upon securing an article honestly and carefully manufactured.
"We would state that, after careful examination, we believe this Phosphate has been improved each year since its introduction in this market, and that it will continue to maintain its present high standing.
"Very respectfully,
"R. H. ALLEN & CO.,
"No. 191 Water street, New York."

E. FRANK COE, Esq.,
Annexed please find result of my analysis of sample of your Super Phosphate of Lime left with me. This being such a superior article in every respect, I cannot refrain from congratulating you upon such manufacture, which undoubtedly will meet with great success.

THE SENTINEL.

WM. E. PELL, SEATON GALES, } Editors.

Wednesday, March 21, 1866.

OUR TERMS.

THE SENTINEL is issued every morning (Sunday excepted) at the following rates:

|---|---|
| For Daily, per year, | $10 00 |
| " six months, | 5 00 |
| " one month | 1 00 |
| " two months | 2 00 |
| Semi-Weekly per year, | 5 00 |
| Weekly per year, | 3 00 |

Our terms are invariably in advance. The Weekly and Semi-weekly will be issued about the first of January. Money may be sent us by the Rail Road conductors or the Express Companies.

The Semi-Weekly Sentinel.

The Semi-Weekly Sentinel will be issued on Wednesday next. It will be issued regularly on Wednesday and Saturday evenings, and mailed at once to subscribers. Price $5 00 per year.

To Subscribers.

We are sending the Sentinel to a number of our friends who have not paid us. The time of a number has expired, but, believing they desired its continuance, we have continued it.—We regret to say, that our expenses are so heavy for paper, &c., that we shall be compelled to discontinue the paper to all who do not pay up by the 1st. of April next. Notice the cross mark. This arrangement does not apply to our city subscribers whom we can see any day.

Gov. Graham's Letter—The "Central Directory."

We are not without hope that Gov. Graham's expose, in his admirable letter published in this paper on yesterday, of the manifest purpose of the majority of the "so called" Reconstruction Committee studiously to ignore all evidence having a favorable bearing on the condition of Southern sentiment, will have a good effect upon the country. The letter in question is almost the first symptom of life manifested by any member of Congress from a Southern State, and, we have authority for saying, has already been well and favorably received. Every man, not blinded by party vindictiveness or maddened by sectional hate, must recognize the glaring injustice of which this State, in particular, has been the victim, at the hands of the Central Directory, as detailed by Gov. Graham—That but one affidavit should have been required to close the case against North Carolina, and shut the doors of representation against a million of people,—and that the affidavit of a sojourner, from one of the Eastern States,—cannot fail to impress every honest and reasoning mind as the very acme of intolerance and unfairness. Our only hope, however, is in the "sober second thought" of the masses and in President Johnson. We have no hope from the majority in Congress. The most abject surrender of all the rights and dignities of manhood would not satisfy them. They have a purpose in not believing anything they see or hear favorable to the Southern people, and it is too evident that nothing can divert them from it. The blood-hound in pursuit of his hapless victim is not more pitiless.

It is not, and cannot be, denied that the great mass of our people are recognizing the authority of the Government in all its departments; that they are submissive to its laws; that they are fulfilling all the requirements made upon them; that they have resumed the pursuits of industry, and seem only intent on repairing the ruin and ravages of a four years war, which have left them financially prostrate and effected a complete revolution in their system of labor. If such peaceful conduct, industrious habits, and undivided attention to their private affairs, oaths of loyalty and such "walk and conversation" as should exempt them from any suspicion of a desire to renew the conflict in which they experienced such disastrous defeat, cannot inspire confidence as to their future intentions, we do not know what they can do to inspire it. They will be as unable, if these tests are rejected, to convince their enemies twenty years from now as they are to day.

Test Oath in the Supreme Court.

Great interest is being evinced in the second hearing by the Supreme Court of the United States of the argument in the ex parte cases of Garland and Marr. On Wednesday last, Mr. Marr, one of the petitioners, concluded his argument.

The reply of the Attorney General was bitter and acrimonious. He said that the petitioners presented themselves as confessed traitors, and asked to be admitted to practice, merely because they had been pardoned, &c. He was not willing to admit traitors to all the privileges of loyal men,—with more to the same effect.

There is little reason to hope for the exercise of that full liberty, which was the spirit of our government, when party spirit and malignity thus intrude themselves into the highest judicial tribunal in the land.

"He was well satisfied that it is now their intention, when they get back, to unite with whatever parties at the North they can to repudiate the rebel debt. He could not say there was a settled conspiracy for the purpose, but it was a sort of common understanding—an expected thing. Some of the most sensible and shrewdest men in the State told him so."

The foregoing is an extract from the testimony of Col. Clapp, of the Freedmen's Bureau, before the "Central Directory" at Washington. We should feel obliged to any one to tell us what it means. The "rebel" debt has already been repudiated. Does the Colonel complain or that? If he is indebted to the same "sensible and shrewd" men, who gave him this startling information, for the other particulars of his evidence, they will excite incredulity even at the hands of the Committee!

Gold closed in New York, on the 18th., at 129½. Cotton had a declining tendency, with sales at 41 cents per lb. Naval stores were dull.

The Stay Law in Mississippi.

We have heretofore noticed the fact, that the High Court of Appeals of the State of Mississippi have unanimously declared the Stay Law of that State unconstitutional. The law in question differs in some respects from the law in this State, as passed by the late Legislature; mainly in the fact that that of Mississippi suspends the collection of all debts until the first day of January, 1868, except such parts of debts due to wards as the probate courts shall determine to be necessary to their support and education, while the North Carolina law only suspends the collection of debts contracted prior to May, 1865. We take it, however, that the principle involved in both is identical.

A late number of the Vicksburg Herald, now before us, contains the decision of the High Court in full. It seems that the case was submitted to the Court on a motion, made in behalf of the plaintiffs in error, to continue it, in virtue of the acts of the Legislature of August 5th, 1861, and December 1st, 1865, each entitled "an act to modify the collection laws of the State."

The judgment in the court below was against the plaintiffs in error, the acceptor, drawer and endorser of a bill of exchange, and in favor of the defendant in error, the holder thereof; and it was contended in support of the motion, that the court could not proceed to judgment in the case, because of the operation of these acts of the Legislature.

In opposition to the motion it was insisted that the acts in question were in violation of the clause of the Federal Constitution which declares that "no State shall pass any law impairing the obligation of contracts," and of the 14th section of the Declaration of Rights of the State, requiring "that all courts shall be open, and every person for an injury done him in his lands, goods, person or reputation, shall have remedy by due course of law, and right and justice administered without sale, denial or delay."

The Court do not appear to have fully sustained the position that the legal remedies existing at the time the contract was entered into form a part of the contract, and so bring the case within the Constitutional prohibition; but their decision is principally based upon the latter objection, founded on the 14th. section of the bill of Rights. And upon this point the summing up is as follows:

"It appears to be clear beyond doubt, that the act of the Legislature in question is repugnant to the provision of the Declaration of Rights, and of the Constitution of this State, and must be held inoperative and void, for that reason.

But it is urged in support of the validity of the act, that the Legislature is clothed with power to suspend the laws of the State, by the 15th section of the Declaration of Rights, which provides, "that no power of suspending laws shall be exercised except by the Legislature or its authority," and that the act in question is but an exercise of the power thus granted.

It must be conceded that this recognizes in the Legislature the power to suspend the laws in general. But the recognition of power must be so construed as to harmonize with other provisions of the Constitution, and will not admit of a construction which would defeat other specific provisions of the instrument and violate individual rights therein positively guaranteed. The act in question does not suspend merely the laws of the State for the collection of debts; but in our view, it contravenes the provisions of the Declaration of Rights, and of the Constitution, and suspends the rights thereby required to be enforced; and it cannot be pretended that, under a power to suspend the laws, the Legislature has power to transcend the Constitution, by doing violence to the rights of person and of property thereby guaranteed.

We have seen that these rights are positively guaranteed to the citizen; and to show how high and sacred they were regarded by the framers of the Constitution, the conclusion of the Declaration of Rights ordains, that they, and other specified rights, are "excepted out of the general powers of government, and shall ever remain inviolate." They were, therefore, emphatically placed beyond the power of the Legislature.

Whilst it is true, therefore, that the Legislature has the power to suspend the laws generally, it has no power to suspend the rights of person and property guaranteed to the citizen in the Declaration of Rights, and required by the Constitution to be enforced at stated times; for that would be to suspend the Constitution."

The Standard snuffs treason to the country in a proposed tournament in the City of Wilmington. Really, in his excessive zeal, our neighbor is in danger of making himself ridiculous. In addition to the tests of "loyalty" heretofore prescribed by the Standard, let this be added: No one, on horseback, hereafter must punch at a ring with a stick!

Calling for Ferrets—A Titus Oates Plot.

The Raleigh Standard says:

We call the particular attention of our readers to the testimony of Gen. Thomas in relation to the state of public opinion in Tennessee. Gen. Thomas says:

"That secret organizations exist in all the rebel States, whose purpose is to obtain representation in Congress—then to impair or destroy the credit of the national government, involve the country in a foreign war, and then avail themselves of the opportunity thus created to effect a dissolution of the Union and the establishment of a separate government."

This is startling information. This secret organization is no doubt in existence in North Carolina. It is highly treasonable in its character, and those who belong to it should be ferreted out and brought to punishment."

We do not imagine that even one member of the Jacobin committee places the slightest credence in General Thomas' testimony—certainly no Southern man with intelligence enough to turn a grind-stone could be deceived by such a story; yet, history is so full of warning respecting the ease with which unscrupulous men avail themselves of the most monstrous fabrications to serve their ends, that we should not be surprised if this story was hawked into a dozen Congressional speeches within the next ten days, and made the excuse for a hundred or more Constitutional amendments.

The Titus Oates Plot had quite as solid a basis of truth. Its purpose was identical with this.—Pet. Index.

It is stated that General Frank P. Blair has been appointed collector at the port of St. Louis

The Friends.

We have seen it stated several times, in the papers, that several companies of our Quaker citizens from Randolph, and other counties in this State, had left for the North-west. We have no better citizens than the Friends, and we presume all our citizens deprecate their leaving. But in connection with their leaving the State, it is alleged in the Northern papers, that these Friends have assigned as a reason for their leaving the persistent persecution they were compelled to endure in this State.

The Standard, always ready to give circulation to whatever affects injuriously the character of the State at the North and with the Radicals, publishes this account and endorses the statement. It, however, gives other reasons for the exodus of the Friends from this State, besides the reason alleged above, any of which would be sufficient to induce them to leave; but it still speaks of the reason alleged above as the great and overruling one. We clip the following from the Standard of yesterday:

"This unfortunate condition of things may be traced to several causes. One cause is the fertility of the lands in the Northwest compared to ours; another is, the poverty of our State generally, with the want of money, which cannot be abundant until crops can be raised and sold; another is, the destruction of our common school system by the leaders in the rebellion, thus cutting off the children of the great body of the people from the hope even of an education; another is, the presence of the military and Freedmen's Bureau, and the disappointment of the hopes of many in not seeing the State restored to the Union; but the great moving cause more or less with all, is the predominance in the State government of the secession feeling, and the apprehension that this feeling will increase and spread until a residence here by unconditional Union people will become not merely unpleasant, but intolerable."

The rest of the Standard's article is marked by its characteristic unfairness and demagoguery, and winds up with an attack upon Gov. Worth's administration.

It is well known that, for the last quarter of a century, and more, the Society of Friends has been constantly on the decline in North Carolina, both on account of their emigration, and the disposition of the young people, as they become mixed up with other circles and associations, to forsake the simple habits and principles of George Fox. This has led to a very general desire, on the part of those who still adhere to the old landmarks, to remove to Indiana, where the society is more numerous and influential.

It is equally well known that the refusal of this people to bear arms has made them the object of reproach among those who differ with them, and during the war attempts were made by some to force them into the fight; but the Legislature of the State respected their conscientious scruples, and imposed a tax instead.

It is possible that the operation of Confederate laws bore heavily upon them, but we deny that under Gov. Vance's administration or under Gov. Worth's they were the subjects of any special persecution or hardship. If they have been persecuted either for their Union or peace principles, we have heard nothing of it. We deny palpably the insinuation of the Standard, that they are now impelled by any unkind treatment or persecution to leave the State. Our laws protect them in their rights and privileges as fully as any other citizens, and we believe the insinuation is false, utterly false, that they are driven from the State by the spirit of persecution.

They have been among our most thrifty people. The war has damaged them less than any other citizens. Their losses have been smaller and their burdens lighter than those of any other portion of our people. Their property consisted in lands, money, bonds, and provisions and stock. Many of them refused to take Confederate money at an early day, and we presume if they have sustained losses, they must have been in war debt State bonds, treasury notes and bank money, to a less amount than any of our other citizens. As to slaves, they had none, and to-day they are better off than any other portion of the community.

If they are persecuted or mistreated, we have not heard of it. One thing is certain: no portion of our people have a stronger hold upon the sympathies of Gov. Worth than the Quakers, and none would be more readily defend and sustain.

We call upon the Friends of Guilford, Forsythe, Davidson, Randolph and Alamance, to let the public know the facts in this case. If they are the objects of persecution, let the truth be known. We believe the statement is a libel upon the State.

VIRGINIA.—The late Virginia Legislature passed a law giving to all colored persons and Indians the right to testify in the Courts in all matters in which they are interested. The law to go into effect after its passage.

For the Sentinel.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—During the late session of the Legislature, there was considerable talk as to the policy that should be hereafter pursued by the Banks in this State, particularly the two in which the State is interested. I believe, however, there was no definite action by the Legislature with regard to them at all. But there is one thing concerning the smaller Banks, whose charters have been granted within the last twenty years, which appears to be overlooked by their note holders. That is, the liability of the stockholders for the redemption of their out standing notes; each individual stockholder being bound for the redemption of their notes by twice the amount of his stock; as can be shown by referring to the charter of each one of those banks. It is very strange that sensible men, holding notes on these Banks, secured as they are, should ever have sold them to brokers at the pitiful sum now offered.—There is no just reason why the provisions of their charters for the redemption of their notes should not be enforced.

We hope the attention of all interested in this business will be called to it; and such measures adopted as will enable the note holders to realize at least one half what their notes call for. If such a compromise as this can be effected between the note holders and the stockholders, it would very likely give general satisfaction to all parties, and save a vast amount of trouble and expense. MACON.

For the Sentinel.

MARCH 19th, 1866.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—Since the adjournment of our Legislature, I have taken a flying trip North, and am now making headway in the direction of the Old North State, where I hope soon to land. As several things of interest have fallen under my observation while in the North, I propose giving you a few items for the Sentinel.

My first visit to the great commercial Metropolis of America, has been quite a pleasant one. As every one, who visits New York, knows, everything there goes with a perfect rush. If a man wishes to keep out of every body's way and keep from being run over, he must always be on the alert, and travel at least in "quick time." New York is certainly a great place; but what a pity it is that there were no better surveyors there when it was first laid off. If its streets were laid off with such precision as Philadelphia, it would be a magnificent city.

As my business lay principally with Booksellers and Publishers, I had little to do with any body besides them. I believe I called on the most of the principal houses of this kind except Harper & Brothers. I would not call on this firm, for fear that, among other reasons, I might be carricatured in some of the "Weeklys," and I confess, I did not wish to be held up in that light to the public gaze.

But I must say that all the houses that I called on treated me with perfect courtesy.—One thing I must not fail to mention; that is the kindness of Dr. Deems, of the Watchman.—Being a stranger in a strange place and unknown to every one but him, of course I at once made my way to his sanctum. He cordially received me and bade me make his office my "headquarters" while in the city. I very willingly accepted the kind offer, and, besides this privilege, received his advice, and by him an introduction to several business men. Every North Carolinian going to New York should not fail to call on the Doctor, and, before leaving, subscribe for the Watchman. This is a most excellent paper and should be sustained heartily by our Southern people. The Doctor has undertaken a worthy enterprise—one in which the whole country is interested, and he must be sustained.

On my return I spent the Sabbath (yesterday) in Washington city, but I fear I was not much edified by lying over on Sunday. Curiosity led me to buy a paper and look for the news, and my eyes were soon greeted with the synopsis of a speech made by Mr. Dumont of Indiana, delivered in the House of Representatives on Saturday last. My sensibilities were shocked at the discourteous allusions to members elect from the Southern States who were seeking admission into Congress. In speaking of these, he applied to them the grating epithet of "dirty dogs whom we see every day sunning themselves at Willard's." Wishing no better name than that applied to those whom we had elected to Congress, I thought I would go to "Willard's" and see if I could find some congenial spirits there—and thought of advising them to skedaddle from Washington instanter or else lay themselves liable to the disapprobation of their constituents. If such men as Messrs. Graham, Pool, Perry and others, cannot receive any better treatment than that in Congress, and if Northern members are allowed thus to speak of the best men we have, and we are allowed no redress, why I think we had all better stay at home and let our masters have their own way, until they are willing to invite us to partake of the crumbs that fall from their beneficent table. We have been sorely scourged for our attempted secession which we acknowledge we deserve. We have been whipped, and whipped badly, and we acknowledge it. We have submitted as obediently as we know how. We have renewed our allegience to the United States in good faith, and want no other government. We have done all we could to assure the Federal government of our loyalty. We have complied with the terms of restoration as far as has been demanded, except in electing men to Congress who could take the test oath. This we cannot do with decent self respect in more than one case out of ten. Even men who were scorned for their Union sentiments during the war are now counted as "dirty dogs sunning themselves about Willard's!". It seems to me that if even Lot were here, his righteous soul would be vexed at this filthy conversation.

But it is to be hoped that the great masses of the people, North, having President Johnson in their head, think better things of us.—Our greatest hope under God is in the President and the conservative element that sustains him, and may God's blessings rest upon them!

My attention was again called to the House of Representatives, where we had a sermon for politicel and spiritual digestion: I could not easily hear all that was said and may not represent the speaker's words exactly, but, if I mistake not, he said something like this: "It is claimed by high authority, (alluding to President Johnson, I suppose,) that this is a white man's government. With all due deference to the source from which it comes, I must dissent. Write upon the dome of this capitol that this is a white man's government, and upon that I will proclaim the downfall of this nation!" Such was proclaimed last Sabbath, in the capitol of this great American republic. All I have to say about it is, from all such preaching, "good Lord deliver us." Amen.

Let no reader of this suppose that I am disloyal. I have always had an irresistible veneration for the Union, even when engaged in rebellion against it—have suffered much ignominy for my former attachment to it. I never intend to desert it again, nor ever dislike its rulers, unless they be such as Dumont, of Indiana, or those who claim that this is not a white man's government. W.

BY act of the General Assembly of North Carolina, ratified March 10th, 1866, I am directed to prepare and sell for not less than par, bonds of the state running thirty four years, with Coupons bearing six per cent interest, payable semi-annually, of the denomination of $100 $500, and $1000, principal and interest untaxable, for the purpose of paying coupons now due and to become due in 1866, and bonds due and to fall due in 1866. By authority vested in the Public Treasurer, I designate New York as the place of payment.

Parties entitled, desirous of effecting the exchange authorized in said Act, will please communicate to me at once the amount and character of the securities which they wish to be funded, in order that I may know the number and denomination of the bonds which will be required. After the engraver shall furnish the blanks, the bonds will be prepared for issue with little delay.

Under advice of the Attorney General, Coupons of bonds issued since, but under acts passed before, May 20th 1861, will be funded under the act of March 10th, 1866, Provided their identity is established, by being cut from the bonds in my presence, a provision necessary on account of the similarity to other Coupons, issued since May 20th 1861.

CITY AND STATE ITEMS.

NEW ADVERTISERS.—Willie Henderson, near Chapel Hill, advertises a horse stolen and offers a suitable reward.

Jo. J. Davis, Esq., Louisburg, advertises "extra prolific" cotton seed for sale.

A. J. Partin offers valuable furniture for sale, and a desirable cottage for rent.

Mrs. Fentress can accommodate two small families with board.

The advertisement of the Public Treasurer "to holders of coupons of North Carolina Bonds" will speak for itself. We invite attention to it.

MULES RECOVERED.—Through the energy and efficiency of his manager, Dr. W. R. Miller has recovered the three mules that were stolen from him on Sunday night last. They were over-hauled and found tied to a fence somewhere beyond Franklinton. The thief or thieves escaped. Dr. M. and his manager adopted the right course to recover the stolen animals in this instance, and we recommend it to others who may be similarly situated. First advertise, and then pursue promptly and vigorously.

INCREASED MAIL FACILITIES.—The Charlotte Democrat learns from an official source, that the P. O. Department has entered into a contract with the Wilmington, Charlotte & Rutherford Railroad to carry the mail three times a week between Wilmington and Shelby, via Lumberton, Laurinburg, Wadesboro', Monroe, Charlotte, Lincolnton, &c. All intermediate offices now established, or new ones that may be established, are to be supplied.

JAIL DELIVERY.—Five prisoners escaped from the Newbern jail on the night of the 16th., by breaking and picking the locks. Three of them were awaiting trial on the charge of horse-stealing and two on the charge of burglary.—The Times says that the jail is so insecure that no prisoner, possessing a spirit of enterprise, with a moderate degree of strength, will stay in it.

EX-GOV. VANCE.—We learn that this distinguished gentleman has concluded to settle in Charlotte, where he will devote himself to the practice of his profession. His health is entirely restored.

(From the Charlotte Guardian.)

MR. EDITOR:—I notice that some of your cotemporaries are in error in regard to the recent discharge of some of the employees of the National Express and Transportation Company. A large number of those employed at first are not now necessary, for, as the country becomes more settled, the business of Express Companies necessarily decreases—the railroads being able to do the heavy business. The Southern Express Company has lately made the same move towards retrenchment, as both certainly have the right to do. The National Company has been obliged to retain some old Express men, not soldiers, because their services could not be dispensed with, or their places filled by inexperienced men. Though these have been retained, as they should have been, a large majority of the employees of the Company are Confederate soldiers, and we are acquainted with many of them.

It is merely ridiculous to charge that noble old chieftain, who is President of the Company, with managing his Company so unworthily as some would have us suppose.

This National Express Company has, in our opinion, up to date, been a public benefactor.—It has been the means, and the only means, of reducing freights from one-third to one-half, since its establishment. These are patent facts, and this Company should be allowed to act untrammelled by the Press, until it has given reason for attack.

I understand that the rates of freight are arranged at a fair business profit, and I have reason to believe that the same tariff would be charged even if they had no opposition.

I am not unfriendly to the other Express Company, not at all, but I believe there is enough business for both, and I wish them "to live and let live."

It would be far better for the Southern Express Company, the railroads and the public, in the end, if they would encourage fair competition. The failure of the National (a thing not at all probable,) would unquestionably insure a return of monopoly and onerous and oppressive tariffs. Verbum Sap. MACK.

GENERAL NEWS.

The Norfolk Virginian notices the failure of the efforts of the Freedmen's Bureau officers at Old Point to induce the emigration to Florida of the negroes who have congregated in great excess in the vicinity of Old Point and Hampton. The number of those persons near Hampton is stated at 21,000. The land around has gone out of cultivation, the oyster season is near its close, and the chance living afforded by the presence of armies and camps is at an end. Threatened with impending suffering, the Bureau officers have sought to persuade them to emigrate to Florida, with a liberal offer of land and provisions; but they refuse, despite all argument and persuasion. They claim the freedom of suffering, and are likely to experience it.

A "One Armed Soldier," as he advertises himself, announces the Old Capitol Prison as on exhibition for twenty-five cents; the sight-seer, he says, may see the cells, the many curious devices upon the walls, the cell where the wretched Wirz lived and the yard where he died, the room and picture of the female spy, Belle Boyd, the room where Wirz was dissected, and a man's heart in spirits, possibly belonging to Wirz also, and all for twenty-five cents.

The Military Bill which went through the Senate on Wednesday, provides that the army of the United States is to consist in times of peace of five regiments of artillery, twelve regiments of cavalry and fifty regiments of infantry. Eight of the infantry regiments, and in accordance with an amendment proposed by Mr. Wade, two of the cavalry regiments are to be composed of colored men. An infantry regiment has, besides the officers, 500 privates, which number may be increased at the discretion of the President to 1,000. Our peace establishment, therefore, would number from 30,000 to about 70,000 men.

MR. BANCROT'S ORATION.—The London Times publishes a letter signed J. H. Livingstone, in which the writer asks leave, as an American, to protest emphatically against the oration delivered in Washington, on the Lincoln memorial day, by Mr. Bancroft. Mr. Livingstone says that "he never felt more ashamed than he did upon reading that oration. He declares that it was a disgrace to Mr. Bancroft, who desecrated the occasion by such a speech, and to those Americans who became accomplices by listening to it."

ST. PATRICK'S DAY IN NEW YORK.—The celebration of St. Patrick's Day in New York included High Mass at the Cathedral by Archbishop McClosky, a panegyrick on the Saint by Bishop Lynch, of Charleston, and a parade by the Irish Societies.

NEW ORLEANS, March 17.—The Times positively asserts that Mayor Monroe will be inaugurated on Monday, notwithstanding the statements to the contrary. The military will not interfere.

MONTREAL, March 17.—Sir Frederick Bruce has ordered the West India squadron to Halifax, with all the disposable troops from the West Indies. The excitement has much abated.

A STUBBORN REBEL.—Ex-Mayor Walter Lennox, of Washington city, is in this city, stopping at the Mansion House. He has been ordered by the Secretary of War to leave Washington, and confine himself to the bounds of the State of Virginia.—Alexandria Gazette.

As President Johnson was in the United States Senate, and Mr. Maynard in the House of Representatives, from Tennessee, after the ordinance of secession was adopted by that State, the very pertinent question comes to us: "If they were entitled to their seats then, Congress of course regarded the secession ordinance as null and void. And if secession did not take Tennessee out of the Union, when and how did she get out?"

Baron Rothschild's cellar of claret wine in Paris is valued at $50,000.

The Memphis Grand Jury reported 150 indictments the other day.

Lord Brougham is President of a brigade of crossing sweepers in London.

A Bangor company have voted to give their browsers to the freedmen.

Dispatches have been received in Paris announcing the death of the King of Siam.

The Louisville Journal says a sore throat is the best for a singer to reach high notes with.

There are twenty one editors in the Iowa Legislature. What a lively time they must have.

THE TRIAL OF SEMMES.—The government's intention concerning Ralph Semmes has not been officially promulgated, but the impression gains ground that he will be tried by a mixed commission, composed of military and naval officers, and that his conviction or release will turn almost solely upon the question of whether or not he violated the usages of war in escaping from the vessel after striking his flag.—It is conceded that the laws of war justified his burning, sinking and destroying his prizes, and that he is protected by the terms of Lee's surrender from acts of lawful warfare.—N. Y. Herald.

CONFEDERATE COTTON.—There is an error in the report to the effect that all "Confederate cotton" has been ordered to be seized as United States property. Confederate cotton that has been paid for by the rebel government and never removed from the point at which it was purchased, is claimed as belonging to the government here, but cotton engaged by the rebel authorities and never paid for, is still the legitimate property of the owner. So says the Washington correspondent of the Philadelphia Ledger.

A Western paper complains of the inefficiency and want of spirit of the Congressman from its district. He has not made a single long speech, and has not even proposed an amendment to the Constitution.

The Eastport (Maine) Sentinel says that a quantity of breech-loading muskets of the most approved pattern were landed at that port by the steamer New Brunswick, a few days ago.—They were consigned to persons unknown—Fenians, of course.

In the United States Circuit Court, New Orleans, John P. Tweed received a verdict of $68,000 against the Louisiana Mutual Insurance Company for cotton lost by the explosion and conflagration in Mobile last June.

$20 REWARD.

Stolen from the subscriber on the night of March 14th, a large bay horse very high withers—mall tail, left fore leg swollen, a lump on the back, called from saddle, paces in good work order, 15 or 16 hands high, about 12 years old. The above reward will be paid for his delivery, or any information leading to his recovery, will be thankfully received.

SALISBURY BRASS BAND

REORGANIZED 1st January, 1866, on a larger scale than formerly, under the direction of its former tutor, W. H. NEAVE, who was also chief music writer and Band teacher in Gen. Lee's army. He will be assisted in leadship and direction by his brother, Ed. Neave, leader during the entire progress of Gen Lee's best and most favorite band, viz: the N. C. The Band is composed of the best Musicians of the old Band together with the best members of several of the fine Bands trained by W. H. Neave, in camps, who have moved to Salisbury from all parts in the State to follow their respective vocations and continue the study and practice of music. This Band will be a permanent institution for all State and festive occasions, and will equal the best to be found in the world, if sustained by those desiring a fine order of Brass and String music, if not, it must go down after this year.

W. H. Neave is also agent for the celebrated Dodworth Brass instruments, proved and warranted to stand by them to others; also, the most pleasing effective and popular Piano made, retailed by him, is H. B. Dodworth and Kent Bastford, New York. For beginners, medium players, and advanced musicians, no trash for either.

Music composed and arranged to order for Parlor Orchestral and Brass Band use for any kind and number of instruments.

Salisbury has been selected for Musical Headquarters for its central position.

AYER'S CATHARTIC PILLS,

Are the most perfect purgative which we are able to produce, or which we think has ever yet been made by any body. Their effects have abundantly shown to the community how much they excel the ordinary medicines in use. They are safe and pleasant to take, but powerful to cure. Their penetrating properties stimulate the vital activities of the body, remove the obstructions of its organs, purify the blood, and expel disease. They purge out the foul humors which breed and grow distemper, stimulate sluggish or disordered organs into their natural action, and impart a healthy tone with strength to the whole system. Not only do they cure the every-day complaints of everybody, but also formidable and dangerous diseases. While they produce powerful effects, they are at the same time, in diminished doses, the safest and best physic that can be employed for children. Being sugar-coated, they are pleasant to take; and, being purely vegetable, are free from any risk of harm. Cures have been made which surpass belief, were they not substantiated by men of such exalted position and character, as to forbid the suspicion of untruth. Many eminent clergymen and physicians have lent their names to certify to the public the reliability of our remedies, while others have sent us the assurance of their conviction that our Preparations contribute immensely to the relief of our afflicted, suffering fellow men.

The Agent below named is pleased to furnish gratis our American Almanac, containing directions for the use, and certificates of their cures, of the following complaints:

Costiveness, Bilious Complaints, Rheumatism, Dropsy, Heartburn, Headache arising from foul stomach, Nausea, Indigestion, Morbid Inaction of the bowels and pain arising therefrom, Flatulency, Loss of Appetite, all Diseases which require an evacuant medicine. They also, by purifying the blood and stimulating the system, cure many complaints which it would not be supposed they could reach, such as Dropsy, Partial Blindness, Neuralgia, and Nervous Irritability, Derangements of the Liver and Kidneys, Gout, and other kindred complaints arising from a low state of the body or obstruction of its functions.

Do not be put off by unprincipled dealers with other preparations which they make more profit on. Demand AYER'S and take no other. The sick want the best and there is for them, and they should have it.

DAILY SENTINEL

WM. B. PELL, Proprietor.

The Women of the South.

[From the Cincinnati Daily Enquirer.]

For some days past the Tribune, which generally possesses the virtue of self respect, not knowing, doubtless, how else to give vent to its ill humor at the turn of affairs, has lavished insults upon the women of the South. It seems to us that a thousand reasons, not to mention the simple one of propriety, should restrain a Northern journal from such attacks. The Tribune should remember, too, the heroism displayed by the Confederate women for their cause. Whether this cause were good or bad, the Southern women have sustained it nobly, and with a force or character which recalls the ancient women of Sparta, and which has everywhere commanded respect and admiration.

Not satisfied with attacking the Southern women, the Tribune institutes between them and the women of the North a comparison as odious as it is unjust.

"Our women," says Mr. Greeley's newspaper, "are everywhere a most cultivated class; the women of the South are more illiterate than the men."

We dispute the truth of this assertion. There are at the South, as at the North, educated women and ignorant women, well bred and ill bred, vulgar women. But we do not believe that the proportion is so unfavorable to the South. The ladies of Charleston, of New Orleans and of Richmond have shone in all the European saloons where they have appeared, as brilliantly as those of New York and Boston. That the Southern women are less literary than their husbands is very possible, but we do not consider this surely as a reproach. We do not like learned women; we are repelled by women versed in Latin and philosophy, and unlike Mr. Greeley, take the part of Henriette against Armande. A woman may be educated, certainly, but never let her become a pedant; and, above all, let her never parade her learning. We do not see at the South such physical and philosophical ladies; we see only too many of them at the North; and what these gain in science, if science that may be called which consists in a great number of ideas, almost always confused and superficially understood, joined to enormous pretension, lose in grace and attraction. We say this without intending any injustice to those charming Northern women who avoid the grotesque and ridiculous, and resemble in this their sisters of the South.

Let us permit the Tribune to insist upon the "gross ignorance" of the Confederate women, and to refer to this ignorance their energy and constancy during the war. We attribute the great qualities of which the Southern women have given noble examples to a higher origin. Ignorance, the Tribune has said it a hundred times, can engender only vice and meanness—and if the Confederate women have been heroic, it is because they had faith in their cause. There are occasions in history when women, whose mission in ordinary times is to make the good wife, the tender mother, and to polish manners by the charm and grace which she brings into all social relations, may rise above herself and give examples of the highest virtues. These occasions occur when the sacred soil of her country, and with it (or through it) the domestic hearth and the family are threatened with invasion. These high virtues the women of the South have practiced without ostentation, without theatrical parade.

They have borne all privations, they have defied all outrages by their proud and impassable attitude. Soldiers, drunken with blood, could outrage their bodies, but their victims remained as pure as those Christian virgins whose memories the embraces of the executioner could not defile. All that is precious to women—dress, jewels, the luxuries of home—all these the Southern women gave up—they did not even recoil before sacrifices still more painful—they did not fear to break their hearts by sending forth their sons to do battle for a cause sacred in their eyes, like that Lacedemonian mother who showed a shield to her son and said simply—return with it—or upon it—do thy duty, or die. Do not expect such trials from ignorant women, from souls without elevation!

And while desolation was over all the hearths of the South, while mothers had each day had fresh tears to wipe away, yet bravely bore their grief, how were the women of the North employed? In developing a costly luxury against which the Tribune itself cried out, calling attention to its scandulous extent; feminine prodigality became more and more unrestrained. We know to what disastrous result this state of affairs had led. Some ladies, it is true, like Miss Anna Dickinson, gave tiresome lectures to promiscuous audiences, others clamored for pretended woman's rights and exposed themselves to the derision of the public; and others still enrolled themselves under the banner of miscegenation. It is among these classes of women, who defy good sense and modesty in public exhibition, that the Tribune finds its ideal.

Let this journal, then, cease to insult these conquered women, of whom the defeat has not diminished the greatness; let it cease to embitter and dishonor its pen in sustaining an indefensible paradox. The North, like the South, has its contingent of good, graceful, educated and elegant bred women: it has, perhaps, a larger number of that class who so little deserve the name of women, and for whom certain announcements are made in the journals; it possesses, also, a greater share of learned and pedantic ladies—but for these, will New Orleans not become envious of Boston. As for good and well-bred society, it is the same everywhere; and the Tribune may be sure that a woman of the world, coming from Boston, would not feel out of place in New Orleans, nor would the contrary be true. In calumniating the Southern women, Mr. Greeley has simply proved that he does not know them, and that he knows still less the common laws of propriety.

Alek attended church last Sabbath, where they have scientific (quartette) singing, and was surprised at the difference between scientific singing and that he has been accustomed to in the back-woods. He furnishes us the following specimen of the style, which he copied from the original:

Waw-kaw, swaw daw aw raw,
Thaw saw thaw law aw raw;
Waw-kaw taw thaw raw vaw vaw braw,
Aw thaw raw-jaw saw aws.

Which rendered into English reads as follows;

Welcome sweet day of rest,
That saw the Lord arise;
Welcome to this reviving breast
And these rejoicing eyes.

Alek says that in the country they are green enough to think it necessary for good singing that the words of the hymn should be sung.

---

New Orleans now has a population larger by sixty thousand than ever before; Galveston and other Texan cities are full to overflowing, and the same is said of Memphis, Mobile, Montgomery, Atlanta, and all the towns of the Southwest.

LIFE INSURANCE NOTICE.

THE old and well established
Ætna Company, of Hartford,
Offers superior inducements to all who wish to provide for family or friends.
All losses are promptly paid. No case of litigation has ever occurred with this Company. With assets of $2,300,000, it offers to receive one half of the premium in a note and half in cash, and, after the second year, to credit each customer with the dividends of the Company, which are now 50 per cent. With a small outlay, $500, or $10,000 or $20,000, may be secured to the family after their earthly providers are taken away. What father or husband would neglect the kind on his dying couch, that he had availed himself of every proper means to place those nearest and dearest to him, above the pinchings of want and a life of dependence upon friends or charity? 8 819 policies have been issued from the office ending Jan. 15 1866. The total income for the year 1865 was $1,683,339 57; total disbursements $527 805 24, leaving a balance to surplus fund of $1,155 244 33.
In Raleigh a large number have liberally responded and promptly acted in this matter; yet many delay, and may wait until it is too late. A man in this city lately left his place of business for his evening meal, well and healthy, but never reached that home except as he was carried there to die. Had that man taken the advice of the Agent, he might have left $5000 to minister to the necessities of a surviving family. Delays are dangerous, procrastination destructive. But one says "If I only had confidence in the Company that it would pay, I would insure." Well, it never has failed to pay, and to-day is more responsible than ever before. It is patronized by some of the most sagacious minds in the land—men competent to detect and expose any deception if it existed.

THIS valuable Manure has been before the agricultural public, under one name for twelve years past, and its character for vigor of action and permanence in effect is well established. Before the war, it was introduced, to some extent, in the Southern States, and was found to be highly adapted to Cotton, Tobacco, and all Crops.
In its action, it is as quick as Peruvian Guano, while it does not leave the land in an exhausted state, but on the other hand permanently improves it. This has been fully proven by years of trial.

PROSPECTUS
OLD NORTH STATE.
"The Old North State Forever."

THE undersigned will commence the publication of a Daily and Weekly Newspaper, bearing the above title, in the city of Salisbury, about the 10th of March next.
The Old North State will be under our control a firm and decided Union paper. But while it will be firm and decided in its support of the Union and of all just and necessary measures tending to its complete restoration, it will yet be liberal and conservative. It will oppose radicalism from whatever quarter it may come. Conforming to the loyal intentions of the great body of the people of North Carolina, it will endeavor to soothe the asperities of the past by promoting among them a spirit of reconciliation and harmony.
Rejecting the exploded dogma of paramount State sovereignty, it will cheerfully support the National government in the exercise of every power necessary to the maintenance of its rightful authority, while it will ever contend against any encroachments upon the reserved rights of the States.
It will discuss all the various political issues of the day, but in doing this it will seek to avoid everything like partizan bitterness or personal vituperation. It will also strive to avoid that detestable practice, so common among politicians, of pandering to the passions and appealing to the prejudices of the multitude in order to accomplish partizan ends. It will endeavor to enlighten and direct aright public sentiment, by dissemination correct information, and by arguments addressed to the understanding—in short it will endeavor to erect a high standard of political morality.
Its columns will be open for Political, Moral, Literary and Agricultural articles especially, and to the advertising public.
The Old North State will be printed on new type on the following

THE LOYALIST.

THE undersigned propose to publish in Louisburg, North Carolina, a newspaper under the above denomination, The LOYALIST, as its name imports, will yield a firm, uniform, and fearless support to the Constitution of the United States, and all laws enacted in pursuance of that great instrument. To the decisions of the Supreme Court of the nation, in such questions as originate in the interpretation or application of the principles involved in our federal jurisprudence or policy, the Loyalist will accord its unqualified acquiescence, as to the will of the American people, duly expressed through the only legitimate, determinate and sufficient medium. Its general politics will be those so long and so thoroughly taught by the patriotism, the eloquence and the wisdom of Clay, and his departed compeers, and so fearfully vindicated by the present melancholy and helpless condition of the communities so recently arrayed in arms against the integrity and harmony of our national union.
The Loyalist would make the institutions and independence the material and moral dignity of the nation, as enduring and as brilliant as the stars whose images adorn the field and the folds of its flag. The Loyalist will also dedicate its energies and exert its abilities to ascertain and cherish the interests, as well as to develope the immense resources of North Carolina. To the cause of education, the general diffusion of knowledge, the elevation of the masses, and the religious culture of all within its influence, it will be a consistent and inflexible friend. Its editorial department will be conducted by gentlemen whose names will be announced in due time.
The LOYALIST will be issued weekly, carefully printed, of the size of the Raleigh "Daily Sentinel," and furnished to patrons at $3,00 per annum, payable on delivery of the first number. Subscriptions and communications respectfully solicited.
